Policemen Garvey and Girard were sent from the third to the eighth precinct, exchanging places with Policemen G. S. and J. E. Catts. From the first Policeman Sanford goes to the fourth, where he did his initial duty. Officer Bode of the ninth goes to the second, and McDonald of the second will do duty in the eighth. IN MEMORY OF JUDGE MILLER

Tribute of Respect by Members of the District Bar.

Addresses by District Attorney Davis. Judge Kimball and Simon Wolf-The Committee's Report.

Pursuant to a call issued by President Henry E. Davis of the District Bar Association, many members of the local bar met in the old Circuit Court shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon to pay tribute to the memory of the late Judge Thomas F. Miller of the Police Court. Mr. Davis, explaining that the meeting was not of members of the bar association, but of the District bar, invited nominations for presiding officer, and Judge Ivory G. Kimball was unanimously chosen, Mr. W. Meyer Lewin being selected as secretary.

Upon the motion of Mr. Davis a committee of nine was appointed to prepare a paper expressive of the sentiments of the paper expressive of the senuments of the meeting, the following being named: Henry E. Davis, C. Maurice Smith, S. T. Thomas, Waiter Davidge, A. S. Worthington, John H. Clark John M. Langston, Jere M. Wilson and John E. Padgett. After a few moments remember the committee, through Mr. Davis, made its Eulogy by Mr. Davis.

Mr. Davis said: "In moving the adoption of these resolutions, Mr. Chairman, I do what is not merely a duty; I do what is to me an act of great satisfaction. It is customary for us to look upon death as something fit to be mourned. When we lose men like Judge Miller, and are called to speak of them, that which we have to say of the death of them has a note of triumph.
"We have had more distinguished men go out from among us—men with endowments superior in some respects to those which he possessed, but, take him for all in all, he was a man whose like we shall not look upon in a long, long while. "To my mind the death of Judge Miller removes from us a man who was an example. Those of us who recollect the man as he was twenty years ago, and then recall how he went yesterday to his last rest-ing place, buried beneath the evidences of esteem and honor in waich he was held, can but contrast the two men and pay unstinted praise to that in the man which made yesterday a possibility, and makes it just and true for us to speak these words of him today.

"Mr. Chairman, the young man, when he

"Mr. Chairman, the young man, when he starts out on his career, is adjured to bear in mind the motto, 'Excelsior.' That is an easy motto to heed. He sees the road before him and the height to which it leads. It is not a case of slipping back and recovering; it is a case of going on. But the true man, the man who makes himself the true man, is he who did what Judge Miller did. Such a man has to take for himself the motto 'Retrorsum.' It was out of the very pit of Avernus that he had to bring himself, and almost daily, though it was that his work seemed like that of Sisyphus, the rolling of the stone to the top of the the rolling of the stone to the top of the hill only to have it roll down again, in the providence of God he landed it on the other providence of God he landed it on the other side, and stood himself upon the crown of the hill, victorious, in the light of the sun and before the eyes of us all.

"Mr. Chairman, it would be an imposition upon your time and that of all who hear me if I should dwell longer upon the thought that I have embeavered to give explanations."

The democrats of New York elected a mayor of Greater New York and a chief justice of the court of appeals for the state. The state legislature left the republicans in control. In Ohio the republicans me if I should dwell longer upon the thought that I have endeavored to give expression to. I say that no juster words were ever written of a man than I here offer as the expression of this meeting. I say no man ever merited the praise of his fellows more than did our, dear brother, who has gone to his just reward; and I of his own party. Kentucky went demogratic fellows more than did our dear brother, who has gone to his just reward; and I know I eeho the sentiment of every one of you when I say of him that his life was more than a mere example—it was an inspiration.

The Committee's Report.

The report was as follows:

Mr. Wolf's Remarks.

Mr. Simon Wolf seconded the motion to adopt the report, and in doing so feelingly alluded to the qualities of Judge Miller as a man rather than of nis legal abilities, saying of him that a gentler or more humane man or judge never lived.

STOLE HIS COW.

Thieves Make a | Haul From Mr McKnew. Mr. W. H. McKnew, about three months ago, bought a cow. It was a beautiful black and white cow, of the Holstein breed, and the milk-giving variety. He kept the cow in a stable at the rear of his house, on Q street between 13th and 14th, and had new cream for breakfast, every morning. Thursday night some miscreant or miscreants climbed the adjoining fence, abstracted the cow from the stable and departed with her. In order to get the animal out the thieves unscrewed the back gate from its hinges. Mr. McKnew says his cow was a smart cow, but not equal to unscrewing hinges from a gate and that therefore there must have been a thief or thieves, whom he has requested the police department to find for him.
